Carter,

Based on the cost share analysis, would we qualify to apply for two? If not, then we will apply for one.

Carter,

I think the most practical selection is to apply for the grant for the purchase of the VL208G Villager 30' -34' Full Electric trolley. I don't think it would make sense to retrofit our existing trolleys since we plan on expanding the service.

Happy New Year!

Hi Lorena,

Based on the spreadsheet you provided there is an estimated Cost Share of $440K available for this grant. I obtained cost estimates for two new electric trolley types and an estimate to repower your existing trolleys from Hometown Trolley (see attached) and a repower cost from Complete Coach Works (see attached). Below is some information on each company I want to share with you.

- Hometown Trolley has contracts with Custom Bus (Corona, CA) for warranty and maintenance. From a phone conversation, I think even though the parent company is located in Wisconsin, having this local company to service/repair the trolleys is reassuring. The company currently has sold four of these electric trolleys however the technology behind the trolley has been in practice for many years. They provided quotes for two models of trolley, the "Villager" and "Streetcar". The Villager actually costs less and can fit more passengers than the Streetcar. The Streetcar is unique because there are no stairs to get into the trolley, so it is lower, but more expensive.

Attached the spreadsheet you provided me for costs. I added a matrix which shows you the prices of the vehicles. You can change the fields to help come up with the fleet that you want to ask for in the grant. Just make sure the Cost Share does not exceed the $440K. Please let us know which vehicles you would like us to apply for under this grant as soon as possible since we are on a limited time line.

Please do your own due diligence on these companies before making your decision on whichever company you choose for this project. Also, note that these are companies I have identified, if you have other vendors you would like to consider please include for discussion.

Lorena and Carter,

Thank you both for taking my call earlier. Carter, after you and I spoke, Lorena and myself set up a time for us to come inspect the trolleys so we can give you guys the most accurate figure. We will be meeting at 10am on Friday. Thank you guys for the opportunity. In the meantime, please check out our website at zepsdrive.com

I also wanted to outline just a couple bullet points on why the CCW ZEPS option might increase the likelihood of receiving ARB funding and save you guys in the long run:

- The cost our bus is significantly less money, and all of our charging infrastructure is included in the price that we'll provide to you by Friday.
- By reusing the existing units that you already own, you are having a huge positive impact on the environment by saving 10 tons of raw material as opposed to the purchase of a new bus(ARB Likes this A LOT)
- You already possess all of the parts for the units
- Your maintenance crew will not have to undergo extensive training because they are already used to working on these units

Again, thank you for your time, and we look forward to meeting with you guys Friday. I've attached a few pictures our most recent electric projects for your viewing.

Kind Regards,

Ryne A. Shetterly

Subject: RE: Hometown Streetcar Electric Quote

Hi Carter,

For a “repower” of your existing trolley it would be the price of the system and charger (i.e. the Villager system is 340k and the charger is 38,500.00) and of course logistics for transporting your trolley here and then return shipping once completed. There would also be a cost of tear down of the trolley to prep for the new system of $27,500.00. for a total repower cost of $406,000.00

However, we need to know the weight (GVW) of the unit to be sure it will handle our system before we would commit to a repower project.

I hope this will help you, Have a Merry Christmas J

Thank you,

Hi Kristina & Joey,

Thank you very much for the two quotes. Do you have an ballpark estimate what a repower would cost on a vehicle unit basis? I would like to provide options for the end user in case they are interested in repowering as well.
